DESTINATION

Surrounded by the South China Sea, Hong Kong is the gateway to China and the Far East. Comprising Hong Kong Island, Kowloon, the New Territories and the 234 Outlying Islands, Hong Kong was first settled by the Han Chinese in the seventh century. It was ceded to Britain in 1842 and remained a British colony until 1997. After reverting to Chinese rule, Hong Kong became a Special Administrative Region and now has a great deal of autonomy.

With a population of almost seven million, Hong Kong is a fusion of Eastern and Western cultures. Cantonese and English are the official languages, although many people also speak Mandarin. The Asia-Pacific headquarters for banking, commerce, manufacturing and tourism, Hong Kong is renowned for its prime shopping, fine dining and dynamic nightlife.

In addition to being one of the world's most important business hubs, Hong Kong has a rich history and culture – and its rugged mountainous landscape offers many peaceful areas for hiking and camping. Four Seasons guests enjoy the combined advantage of staying at the city's most exclusive hotel while experiencing with ease all that Hong Kong has to offer.

WEATHER

Due to its subtropical location, Hong Kong's weather is generally mild in winter and hot and humid in summer, with an average annual rainfall of 226 centimetres (89 inches). Late September to early December is very pleasant with clear, sunny skies and lower humidity levels. January and February are the coldest months, yet it is still a pleasant time of year. In the spring, the temperatures and humidity start to rise. By summer, temperatures can reach the 30s (90s).

At 550 metres (1,805 feet) above sea level, it offers dazzling views of Hong Kong Island, the harbour, Kowloon and the hills beyond. At the top, in the Peak Tower, there are over 10,405 square metres (112,000 square feet) of shopping, dining and some of the city's best entertainment attractions. The wok-shaped building is a Hong Kong icon. Stroll through Ripley's Believe It or Not Odditorium, and Madame Tussauds – the famous wax museum from London. Aberdeen:

- This bustling waterfront town is located on one of the southern tips of Hong Kong Island. Two centuries ago, Aberdeen was a pirates' den, and later it became a simple fishing village. Today, it is a modern, vibrant area of Hong Kong. Fishing life is still popular, and traditional boats are in abundance, acting as floating homes for thousands of people. Docked side by side in the harbour, they are a contrast to the modern high-rise communities visible on the hillside above. For a closer look at Aberdeen life, take a sampan ride, or head to a floating restaurant for a delicious seafood meal.

Repulse Bay:

- With its resort-like atmosphere and breathtaking views, Repulse Bay has one of the most popular beaches on Hong Kong Island. Around the bay are luxury apartment blocks, shops, restaurants, the famous Repulse Bay Hotel and an unusual shrine to Kwun Yam, the Goddess of Mercy.

The temple also has a lovely park called the Good Wish Gardens – a peaceful green spot with waterfalls tumbling over rocks.

Stanley Market and Murray House:

- Stanley's open-air markets are famous for their bargains in silk garments, sportswear, jewellery and crafts. The narrow streets are always crowded, and bargaining is de rigueur. After you've worked up an appetite, a variety of restaurants and bars awaits in nearby Stanley Main Street. Stanley is also home to waterfront restaurants beside the beach and historic (1842) Murray House – an elegant European-style building that was dismantled in 1982 to make way for another building, and eventually painstakingly reassembled at its present site.

Within a 45-minute drive of the Hotel

- The award-winning Hong Kong Heritage Museum has magnificent displays on Cantonese opera, the cultural heritage of the New Territories, a Children's Discovery Centre, and an impressive art collection.

Take in one of Shenzhen's three theme parks – Splendid China, the China Folk Culture Village and Windows of the World, each with its own unique features. You can reach Shenzhen by bus or train to the boundary, where a bridge leads into Shenzhen City.

Within a 30-minute boat ride of the Hotel

Lamma Island:

- Lamma Island, also known as Po Liu Chau, is Hong Kong's third largest island and is enjoyed for its laidback lifestyle and natural beauty. The most popular area on the island is Yung Shue Wan, a pretty, tree-shaded village where the streets are lined with small restaurants, pubs and shops.

Within a 1-hour boat ride of the Hotel

Outlying Islands:

- The Outlying Islands showcase a way of life that has remained unchanged for decades, their countryside and fishing villages a marked change of pace from the hectic city. Cheung Chau is a densely populated island with a thriving fishing community, and is home to Hong Kong's famous Bun Festival. Just a short ferry ride away is Lantau Island, home to great beaches, spectacular mountain walks and the world's largest seated outdoor bronze Buddha. Peng Chau is a small, flat island with a floating community of fishermen.

Macau:

- Macau, on China's southeast coast, combines the cultures of East and West with colourful Chinese shops all vying for attention with distinctive colonial architecture. With a rich 400-year history of coexistence between Portugal and China, its fusion of Asian and Mediterranean cultures makes for a fascinating getaway. The historic centre of Macau is designated a World Heritage Site and the territory's casinos are also a major attraction for visitors from China and Hong Kong.

Within a 1-hour boat ride and drive of the Hotel

Tian Tan Buddha:

- One of Hong Kong's must-see attractions is the world's largest seated outdoor bronze statue of Buddha, the Big Buddha. Climb the 260 steps from Po Lin Monastery up to the majestic Buddha, which stands 26 metres (85 feet) high and took 10 years to complete. Weighing 220 tonnes (242 tons), it was unveiled in 1993 and, aside from attracting Buddhists from across Asia, the magnificent statue has transformed the remote monastery into a popular tourist attraction.
