On the private Hawaiian island of Lana'i, a gracious country manor awaits, hidden within the lush central highlands. Set amidst manicured lawns and gardens, Four Seasons Resort Lana'i, The Lodge at Koele blends peaceful tranquillity with two world-ranked golf courses and exciting adventures on land and at sea.

The central highlands of Lana'i reveal a rare and exciting world defined by majestic mountains and forests of towering pines. Like a gracious country estate – warmed with the intimacy of a private guest house – Four Seasons Resort Lana'i, The Lodge at Koele presides over 20 acres (8 hectares) of manicured lawns and gardens with sculptures and a reflecting pond. Elevated highland vistas extend up to the central mountain peaks and down over rolling hills to the ocean in the distance. Indoors, under the high ceilings of the Great Hall, roaring fires and deep sofas encourage intimate conversation.

The 102 guest rooms and one-bedroom suites – some with a stone fireplace – offer colourful island charm and high-tech convenience. Four options for dining and cocktails feature garden settings for outdoor events. A total of 40,579 square feet (3,770 square metres) of function space is primarily located outdoors in picturesque garden settings.

The Lodge becomes home base for an enticing array of outdoor activities – from golf to horseback riding to clay shooting. During sun-drenched days, guests enjoy swimming, tennis, croquet, lawn bowling, sporting clays and horseback riding, as well as luxuriating at the spa in the woods. Golf is available at two of the world's most acclaimed courses.

Just 25 minutes away, at the ocean's edge, Four Seasons Resort Lana'i at Manele Bay broadens the options for dining and recreation and offers an additional 50,541 square feet (4,695 square metres) of indoor and outdoor function space. Guests enjoy convenient shuttle service and complete signing privileges at the island's only other resort property.

DESTINATION

At the centre of the Hawaiian archipelago, a few miles west of Maui, the tiny island of Lana'i is an unspoiled paradise of spectacular sea coast and enchanting highland forest. The island is 98% privately owned – providing a sense of uncrowded natural calm unique within the Hawaiian islands.

Lana'i is approximately 13 miles (21 kilometres) wide and 18 miles (29 kilometres) long, with ground elevations varying from sea level to more than 3,400 feet (1,036 metres). The central landscape offers mist-shrouded mountains and forests of Cook Island pines where wild deer roam freely. The coastline is ringed by secluded white-sand beaches, rugged red lava cliffs and crystal-clear waters. A place of deep cultural significance, Lana'i features many historic sites, old fishing villages and unique topographical attractions. The island's only community is the quaint plantation town of Lana'i City, with a full-time population of just 3,000.

For nearly a century, Lana'i was home to Hawaii's largest pineapple plantation and was known as the Pineapple Island for its fields of golden pineapples. Now Lana'i has been transformed into an exclusive island destination with two Four Seasons resorts – each presenting a distinctive Hawaiian experience. Four Seasons Resort Lana'i, The Lodge at Koele offers dynamic sporting adventure in the green central highlands, while Four Seasons Resort Lana'i at Manele Bay offers ocean-side relaxation and recreation.

WEATHER

As the Resort is situated in the highlands, 1,600 feet (488 metres) above sea level, the temperature is cooler here than on the coast. The unusually temperate climate offers warm days with light breezes and cool nights.

LOCAL ATTRACTIONS AND ACTIVITIES

At Four Seasons, you enjoy a unique vantage point from which to explore the sights, sounds and experiences around you. Begin with a tour of the Resort's art collection, then visit a nearby beach, go on a hiking excursion or take a day trip to Maui or Molokai. For a spectacular view of the island's varied landscape and scenic beauty, a helicopter tour offers a unique and exhilarating experience. We hope the highlights of local attractions below help simplify your planning. Please let us know how else we can assist you.

Within a 5-minute drive of the Resort

Koloiki Ridge hike:

- Enjoy the seclusion of Lana'i as you hike to the Koloiki Ridge. This 5-mile (8-kilometre) hike offers the breathtaking views of the Pacific Ocean and the neighbouring islands of Moloka'i and Maui. Experience cool trade winds as you sit atop of this ridge and enjoy the beauty of Lana'i.

Daily Cultural Programmes:

- To experience some of Lana'i's history, explore the unique assortment of cultural programmes available to you. Some examples include the traditional arts of Hawaiian hula dancing, storytelling, history, music, lei making, pineapple creations and lau hala weaving.

Mike Carroll Gallery:

- Lana'i artist Mike Carroll's gallery and studio in Lana'i City will thrill your eyes and connect with your heart. Chat with the artist himself at his easel and discover some of the best emerging and established artists the islands have to offer.

The Lana'i Art Center:

- The local Art Center is a gallery featuring the work of over 20 talented Lana'i artists. The Center also provides art experiences for residents and visitors in drawing, painting, fabric arts, children's arts and crafts, photography, digital arts, woodworking, pottery and traditional Hawaiian crafts. These are offered for all levels of expertise and ages; private are lessons available.

Lana'i City:

- For a leisurely afternoon of shopping, visit charming Lana'i City. Centred around Dole Park, the city offers everything from fashionable island apparel and souvenirs to handmade gifts and art. Lana'i City is also home to the island's post office and movie theatre.

The Munro Trail:

- The Munro Trail is one of Hawaii's most popular excursions. The trail, approximately 12 miles (19 kilometres) long, takes two hours to cover. It leads visitors through rainforests up to the summit of Mount Lanaihale, 3,370 feet (1,027 metres) above sea level. This is the perfect vantage point from which to see six other Hawaiian islands.

Within a 20-minute drive of the Resort

Whale and dolphin watch:

- Lana'i is home to one of the largest schools of spinner dolphins in Hawaii, and from December to April it is also the calving and breeding grounds for hundreds of migrating humpback whales, viewable along the shores of Four Seasons Resort Lana'i at Manele Bay. Whale and dolphin boat excursions are also available throughout the week; fees apply.

Fishermen's Trail:

- Hike the challenging old Hawaiian Fishermen's Trail, located on a cliff with panoramic views of the Pacific Ocean.

Garden of the Gods (Keahiakawelo):

- This scattering of rocks and boulders of varying shapes and colours forms what appears to be nature's very own rock garden. As beautiful as it is mysterious, the Garden of the Gods (Keahiakawelo) is so named because the giant stones evoke god-like images. It is a visual wonder. The area offers fabulous views and is accessible by four-wheel-drive vehicle.

Sweetheart Rock (Pu'u Pehe):

- One of Lana'i's most recognisable landmarks, this towering rock rises out of the water between Hulopo'e Bay and Manele Bay. According to legend, a jealous warrior from Lana'i kept his beautiful maiden hidden in a sea cave near the rock, so no other man could see her. One day a storm came in, drowning her. Heartbroken, he carried her body to the top of the rock and buried her in a tomb that can still be seen today. He then leaped to his death.

Within a 35-minute drive of the Resort

Shipwreck Beach (Kaiolohia):

- Though it is not safe for swimming, its beautiful views and magnificent shells make Shipwreck Beach (Kaiolohia) a favourite destination for visitors to Lana'i. The turbulent and unpredictable waters of the area have led many ships to an untimely end near here. The beach's main attraction is the famous shipwreck that stands high on the reef. A World War II Liberty ship, it was one of three US Navy vessels grounded here during the 1940s. The 8-mile (13-kilometre) beach is a great spot to sunbathe, enjoy a picnic, fish, walk and explore.

Within a 45-minute drive of the Resort

Petroglyphs at Shipwreck Beach:

- Petroglyphs are ancient drawings, painstakingly carved into rocks or old lava flows. Depicting people, animals and other objects, their exact meaning remains a mystery. While they can be found throughout Hawaii, one spot to view them is near Shipwreck Beach. Here you will see images of men, women and children doing everything from hunting and fishing to surfing. Petroglyphs are an important piece of Hawaii's past; care needs to be taken while viewing them.

Within a 1-hour drive of the Resort

Polihua Beach:

- The name Polihua translates as poli – cove or bay – and hua – eggs. One of Lana'i's most beautiful beaches, it is famous for its nesting turtles. A good beach to explore, or to relax and sunbathe on. Swimming and surfing are not recommended because of the rough waters and powerful undertow.

Kaunolu Village:

- This historic Hawaiian fishing village is so steeped in history, it has been declared a National Historic Landmark. Reputed to have been established in the 15th century, the ruins of the ancient village are still standing.

Within a 1.5-hour drive of the Resort

Lopa Beach:

- With its soft sand and shallow waters, Lopa is a great spot for those who want to learn how to surf. One of Lana'i's best beaches, it was once the location of four ancient Hawaiian fish ponds.

Within a 45-minute boat ride of the Resort

Maui day trip:

- A convenient and easy way to see Maui is to take the Expeditions Ferry, available daily (including holidays) from the Manele Bay Harbor. The Resort's shuttle service provides transfers between the Resorts and the Harbor. On Maui, the Expeditions Ferry docks at Lahaina Harbor, in the heart of historic Lahaina.

Lahaina, Maui:

- Visitors can easily spend a full day in Lahaina browsing the interesting shops, restaurants and galleries located steps from the Harbor. The Expeditions Ferry provides daily service between Manele Bay Harbor and Lahaina Harbor.

Within a 20-minute plane ride of the Resort

Moloka'i day trip:

- Moloka'i is the fifth largest island in the Hawaiian archipelago – 38 miles (61 kilometres) long and 10 miles (16 kilometres) wide. Private charter flights are available from Lana'i City Airport to Moloka'i Airport. The 20-minute flight is serviced by three charter carrier services. Reservations are required and can be made in advance at the Concierge's desk.

The Experience at Koele

Designed by golf legend Greg Norman and architect Ted Robinson, this championship course offers stunning views of mountains and lush greens, with the ocean in the distance. It offers dramatic contrast to The Challenge at Manele, with a cooler climate, wooded slopes, manicured bunkers and terraced water hazards.

The course begins on a plateau nearly 2,000 feet (610 metres) above sea level, with sweeping views of Maui and Molokai across the ocean channel. The signature hole, Number 17, plays from a 250-foot (76-metre) elevated tee to a fairway bordered by a lake on one side and dense foliage the other. The front nine move dramatically through ravines wooded with pine, koa and eucalyptus trees, and seven lakes and flowing streams with cascading waterfalls dot the entire course. No other course offers a more incredible combination of highland terrain, inspired landscape architecture and a range of play challenges. Playing a round here will ensure you bragging rights, no matter what your score.

challenges the best golfers – tee shots over natural gorges and ravines must be precise.

- Designer: Jack Nicklaus

Hiking

Enjoy the solitude of Lana'i as you begin your hike through the forested hills and valleys of the Koele highlands. The forest eventually gives way to open vistas and steep ravines, exposing the ridge of Koloiki with its spectacular views of neighbouring islands.
